2018 ... What 2018?

I am sure everyone is prepared for the last meeting of 2018. Where did that year go? It only seemed the other day we were welcoming in 2018 and now it is almost Christmas. Everybody ready for the unconventional December Meeting?

Please bring ...

1. Photography Book to discuss ... favourite photographer or technique
2. A Christmassy Plate of Food for supper
3. Homework Images (already submitted to Graham)

Homework Discussion

The game of homework images is about to change. A trial run this month of looking and seeing images. Firstly, the author will remain silent, while people guess who is the photographer and what is their intention with the image. The idea is to give the author more feedback on their images. I encourage everybody to put your on judge's hat and critique.

Jan Ramsay - Making Books

Jan's presentation was fantastic. It was nice to see the product of photography not as a print object in a frame to be put on the wall. It was awesome to see the possibilities that are out there when deciding the outcome of a single image or a project. My favourite book was the toaster! I wonder if the toaster was your favourite or did you have another favourite book. Such a fantastic evening. Thank you Jan for your stories and wonderful projects.

Speakers

We have February to May Presenters pencilled in. I would encourage any members if you want to do a presentation or have an idea for a guest speaker to benefit the club, talk to any Committee Member or me or email me at cstewpics@gmail.com

Library Display Update

Our display to go ahead at the Carindale Library in April. Evelyn will need your prints by the March meeting at the very latest. More details at the December meeting.
